

Erase unwanted signs of aging and sun damage with Forever Young BBL!

What can be treated?

- Brown spots, sun damage, "age" spots, "liver" spots
- Broken blood vessels (telangectasias)
 - Rosacea
- Hyperpigmentation/uneven skin tone

How does it work?

Exposes damaged skin to a form of intense pulsed light which stimulates collagen and elastin fibers resulting in reduction of brown spots, red spots, freckles and fine lines/wrinkles.

During and Immediately After Treatment

During treatment your eyes will be protected with safety shields/goggles. Most patients report a feeling similar to a rubber band snap. After treatment you may be pink with some swelling which should resolve over the next few hours to the next day. Brown spots may darken initially before falling off to reveal younger looking skin underneath. You may apply makeup immediately following treatment.

How many treatments do I need?

You can see improvement with just one treatment although maximum improvement is typically seen with a series of at least 3. Sometimes more than 3 are necessary to see the most benefit.

How long do the treatments take?

BBL treatments are relatively quick although the size of the area being treated determines how long your treatment will take. For example a full face typically takes approximately 15 minutes.

How long will the results last?

Forever! The results of BBL are permanent however these treatments only treat existing sun damage and do nothing to prevent further damage. That is why most patients prefer to correct with 1-3 treatments (4 weeks apart) and then maintain those results with 3 treatments per year (every 4 months). Regular treatments were clinically proven to make patients look 10 years younger.
